

the best spirit, and a firm but calm dared them to oppose any violent move. Not the slightest irritation was to be observed. The most raged in their ranks, and warlike peated cry of "Vive la République"

